[1] The series is the first installment in the season-themed tetralogy drama series Endless Love directed by Yoon Seok-ho. It aired on KBS2 from September 18 to November 7, 2000, on Mondays and Tuesdays for 16 episodes. The series was very successful in South Korea, averaging an audience of 38.6% and reaching an audience high of 46.1%. He is considered a pioneer in the Korean melodramatic series, a global fever commonly known as the Korean Wave. As a result of its success, site tours have been developed in Korea related to the show. [2] Synopsis History with the child Yoon Joon-suh, accidentally causing the change of his sister and another baby when he drops the ID cards into the cribs of the two babies in the hospital room. A nurse who enters puts the name cards incorrectly. The story then leaps into adolescence from the two main characters: Yoon Eun-suh (Moon Geun-young) and Yoon Joon-suh (Choi Woo-hyuk). Eun-suh is the most popular girl in the class, prompting the jealousy of her rival, Choi Shin-ae (Lee Ae-jung). Shin-ae is smart, but he doesn't get the attention he craves from the teacher and her classmates. When Eun-suh is hit by a truck and needs a blood transfusion, it is discovered that she is not the biological daughter of the Yoons. She belongs to the Chois instead. Choi Shin-ae is also discovered to be not the biological daughter of the Choi, but that of the Yoons. In the end, the two daughters return to their original biological parents. Shin-ae moves in with the Yoon family, and Eun-suh moves in with Mrs. Choi,(her biological father is dead) who operates a small restaurant that lives in abject poverty. Your situations are now reversed. Shin-ae is the most popular girl in the class and Eun-suh is the one who is ignored. Shortly after the change, the Yoon family moved to the United States and Eun-suh lost contact with them. Ten years later, Joon-suh (Song Seung-heon) returns to South Korea as a successful artist. Go back to your hometown. He meets his old friend, Han Tae-seok (Won Bin), who is staying at the hotel where Eun-suh (Song Hye-kyo) works as a telephone receptionist. Tae-seok,(who doesn't know about the sibling mix) falls in love with Eun-suh and manipulates her until she is fired from her job. One day Eun-suh sees Joon-suh and follows him to the beach where he is with his fiancée Yumi (Han Na-na) and Tae-seok. The two brothers finally meet again after ten years. Eun-suh and Joon-suh seem to have a sibling relationship with each other, but they meet in secret and fall in love even though she always refers to him as oppa (big brother). Shin-ae (Han Chae-young) learns of their relationship and exposes the two after she finds a love letter that Eun-suh wrote to Joon-suh. The two decide to stay together, but are soon separated again because their parents are against the union. Yumi hurts himself and blackmails Joon-suh with suicide to hold on to him. As a fight between Joon-suh and Tae-seok erupts over his love for Eun-suh, he discovers he has leukemia (the same fatal condition that killed his biological father). He doesn't tell anyone except Tae-seok, who offers to pay for his treatment. When your health deteriorates, others begin to discover the extent of your condition. Eun-suh soon falls into a coma. Joon-suh learns eun-suh's health and reacts with shock and fear, while Tae-seok forces Joon-suh to try to wake up Eventually, Eun-suh wakes up, but is too weak to follow treatment. When it is clear that there is no hope, hope. Takes her home so she can spend her last days with him. At this point, Yumi finally lets go of Joon-suh. Joon-suh proposes to Eun-suh and they marry. Eun-suh dies when Joon-suh takes her along the beach where they spent their birthdays as teenagers. Before Eun-suh dies, he tells Joon-suh to move on and go on living. However, Joon-suh, stunned and afflicted by the death of his love, is hit by a truck in the same place as the Eun-suh accident during his teenage years. It is not known whether he survived the accident.
